Positive Relationships Policy

“Positive relationships in schools are central to the well-being of both students and teachers and underpin an effective learning environment.” Sue Roffey.

1. Policy Statement:

Cogan Primary School is committed to creating an environment where exemplary behaviour is at the heart of productive learning. Everyone is expected to maintain the highest standards of personal conduct, to accept responsibility for their behaviour and encourage others to do the same. The Governing Body and staff at Cogan Primary school believe that positive learning behaviours are fundamental to success in the classroom for both children and teachers. Positive behaviour results from excellent relationships between adults and children and a well-planned and delivered curriculum that stimulates children to learn, ask questions, debate, and challenge themselves. Behaviour for learning is behaviour which encourages learning to take place. Positive behaviour needs to be taught, modelled, expected and praised. Children learn best and feel safe and secure in an ordered environment. This can be achieved when expectations of learning and behaviour are high and behaviour management techniques are consistently applied throughout the school by all members of the school community. Our Relationship and Behaviour policy guides staff to teach self-discipline. It echoes our vision, school aims and values.

2. At Cogan Primary we aim to:

- Foster excellent relationships between all members of our Cogan community by displaying genuine care, trust and understanding so we can all work together to create the very best learning environment.
- Ensure that all members of our community are treated fairly and shown respect so we create a safe, comfortable and nurturing environment where we can all be the best we can.

- Ensure all staff and pupils are aware of the very high standards of behaviour that are expected of them, and take responsibility for promoting these high standards.
- Help learners develop life skills including self-regulation, empathy, social awareness and recognise that every action has a consequence.
- Use restorative approaches.
- Build a community which values and models kindness, good humour, tolerance and empathy for others.

3. Purpose of the policy:

To provide simple, practical procedures for staff and learners that:

- Recognise behavioural norms;
- Positively reinforces behavioural norms;
- Promote self-esteem and self-discipline;
- Teach appropriate behaviour through positive interventions.

4. Fundamental principles:

All members of our school community have the right to:

- feel secure and safe
- feel happy and be treated with kindness and understanding;
- be treated fairly and consistently;
- be listened to (at an appropriate time);
- be treated with respect and politeness;
- be treated with empathy.

The fundamental principles which underpin our policy are:

- Unconditional positive regard for all pupils;
- A no shouting policy;
- A focus on choice: we refer to good choices (which lead to positive consequences) and choices which are poor (which lead to agreed consequences).

4.1 The main reasons for using a language of choice are:

- Self-management of behaviour and reflection on behaviour choices made i.e. there are always different behavioural options. Any poor behaviour is a result of the choices made rather than negative expectations associated with 'labelling' of a child.
- Recognising, acknowledging and rewarding pupils for their positive choices, use of our three behaviour rules of Ready, Respectful, and Safe
- Consistency in behaviour management based on our whole school structure where all staff are expected and empowered to effectively manage behaviour.
- Adopting a positive and assertive approach, where clear boundaries are set and enforced consistently, fairly, calmly and firmly.
- Using 'Pausing to be' and 'Reflection Time' in class to create a positive climate for learning and to create more awareness of how to self-regulate.
- Encouraging pupils to be proud of their school.
- Using activities as appropriate to tell children what positive learning behaviours look like and to discuss how to deal with certain situations.
- Encouraging everyone to be responsible for their own behaviour and goals and have a sense of collective responsibility.

5. Rights of the Child

The UNCRC is at the heart of our values at Cogan Primary. The Articles from the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child that apply to this policy are:

Article 2 (non-discrimination) The Convention applies to every child without discrimination, whatever their ethnicity, gender, religion, language, abilities or any other status, whatever they think or say, whatever their family background.

Article 28 (right to education) every child has the right to an education. Primary education must be free and different forms of secondary education must be available to every child. Discipline in schools must respect children's dignity and their rights. Richer countries must help poorer countries achieve this.

6. Education Endowment Framework (EEF) ‘Improving Behaviour in Schools’ 2018

The report by the EEF has identified the following elements of successful positive behaviour within a school:

1. Know and understand your pupils and their influences

- Pupil behaviour has multiple influences, some of which teachers can manage directly.
- Understanding a pupil’s context will inform effective responses to misbehaviour.
- Every pupil should have a supportive relationship with a member of school staff

2. Teach learning behaviours alongside managing misbehaviour

- Teaching learning behaviours will reduce the need to manage misbehaviour.
- Teachers can provide the conditions for learning behaviours to develop by ensuring pupils can access the curriculum, engage with lesson content and participate in their learning.
- Teachers should encourage pupils to be self-reflective of their own behaviours.

3. Use classroom management strategies to support good classroom behaviour

- Effective classroom management can reduce challenging behaviour, pupil disengagement, bullying and aggression
- Improving classroom management usually involves intensive training with teachers reflecting on their classroom management, trying a new approach and reviewing their progress over time
- Reward systems can be effective when part of a broader classroom management strategy

4. Use simple approaches as part of your regular routine

- Some strategies that don’t require complex pedagogical changes have been shown to be promising
- Breakfast clubs, use of specific behaviour-related praise and working with parents can all support good behaviour

- School leaders should ensure the school behaviour policy is clear and consistently applied

5. Use targeted approaches to meet the needs of individuals in your school

- Universal behaviour systems are unlikely to meet the needs of all your students
- For pupils with more challenging behaviour, the approach should be adapted to individual needs
- Teachers should be trained in specific strategies if supporting pupils with high behaviour needs

6. Consistency is key

- Consistency and coherence at a whole-school level are paramount
- Whole-school changes usually take longer to embed than individually tailored or single-classroom approaches
- However, behaviour programmes are more likely to have an impact on attainment outcomes if implemented at a whole-school level

This is reinforced by Paul Dix in his 5 Pillars of pivotal practise:

1. Consistent, calm adult behaviour – consistency, adult behaviour, emotional control, teacher expectations
2. First attention to best conduct – rewards, recognition, praise, motivation, engagement
3. Relentless routines – rules, routines, follow-up, teacher habits, non-verbal cues,
4. Scripting difficult interventions – de-escalation, disruption, delivering sanctions, confrontation
5. Restorative conversations – restorative practice, structuring sanctions, working with the most troubled, developing relationships

Consistency of approach

“Consistency lies in the behaviour of adults and not simply in the application of procedure. A truly sustainable consistent approach does not come from a tool kit of strategies but in the determination of every member of staff to hold firm. The key is to develop a consistency that ripples through every interaction on behaviour. Where learners feel treated and valued as individuals they respect adults and accept their authority.” Paul Dix – When the Adults Change Everything Changes.

Positive behaviour needs to be modelled by all adults and repeatedly reiterated to all pupils so that they can be reassured by the consistency of routine for “the route to exceptional behaviour...lies in the behaviour of every adult and their ability to create a culture of certainty.” (Dix, 2017)

- Consistent language and consistent response: simple and clear expectations reflected in all conversations about behaviour
 - Consistent follow up: ensuring “certainty” at the classroom and Senior management level.
- Consistent positive reinforcement: routine procedures for reinforcing, encouraging and celebrating
- Consistent consequences: defined, agreed and applied at the classroom level as well as established structures for more serious behaviours
- Consistent expectations: referencing and promoting appropriate behaviour.
- Consistent respect from the adults: even in the face of disrespectful learners
- Consistent models of emotional control: emotional restraint that is modelled and not just taught, teachers as role models for learning
 - Consistently reinforced routines for behaviour around the site: in classrooms, around the site and at the school reception.

The aims of this policy will be met by everyone consistently observing our 3 agreed rules.

These are:

- 1. Be ready -Yn Barod
- 2. Be respectful -Yn Barchus
- 3. Be safe -Yn Ddiogel

By displaying behaviours linked to following these 3 rules we will create a safe and positive learning environment which leads to a culture of excellence and success.

5.1 All staff will:

- Meet and greet children on the school yard at the beginning of each school day.
- Hand children to parent/carer/older sibling at the end of the school day.
- Model positive behaviours and build relationships.
- Plan and support lessons that engage, challenge and meet the needs of all learners.
- Be a visible presence to encourage appropriate conduct.
- Celebrate staff and learners whose efforts go above and beyond expectations.

5.2 Parent /Carers will:

- Encourage their child's independence and self-discipline, to show an interest in all that their child does in school and to offer a framework for social education.
- Foster good relationships with the school and support the school in the implementation of this policy.
- Make their child aware of appropriate behaviour in all situations and to be aware of the school rules and expectations.
- Inform the school of any events that may have an impact on their child's wellbeing.

6. Recognition and rewards for effort

We recognise and reward learners who go "over and above" our standards. Although we have weekly and monthly Proud to Present awards our staff understand that a quiet word of personal praise can be as effective as a larger, more public reward.

Positive Reminder

- Children are expected to enter and exit the hall in a respectful manner. Walking in and out silently in respective class lines.
- Once sat, children are expected to show they are being 'ready, respectful and safe' by listening to the adult in the front of the hall.

Warning

- Reminder that this is the last warning and will be moved to sit near an adult if behaviour continues.

Learner asked to sit next to an adult.

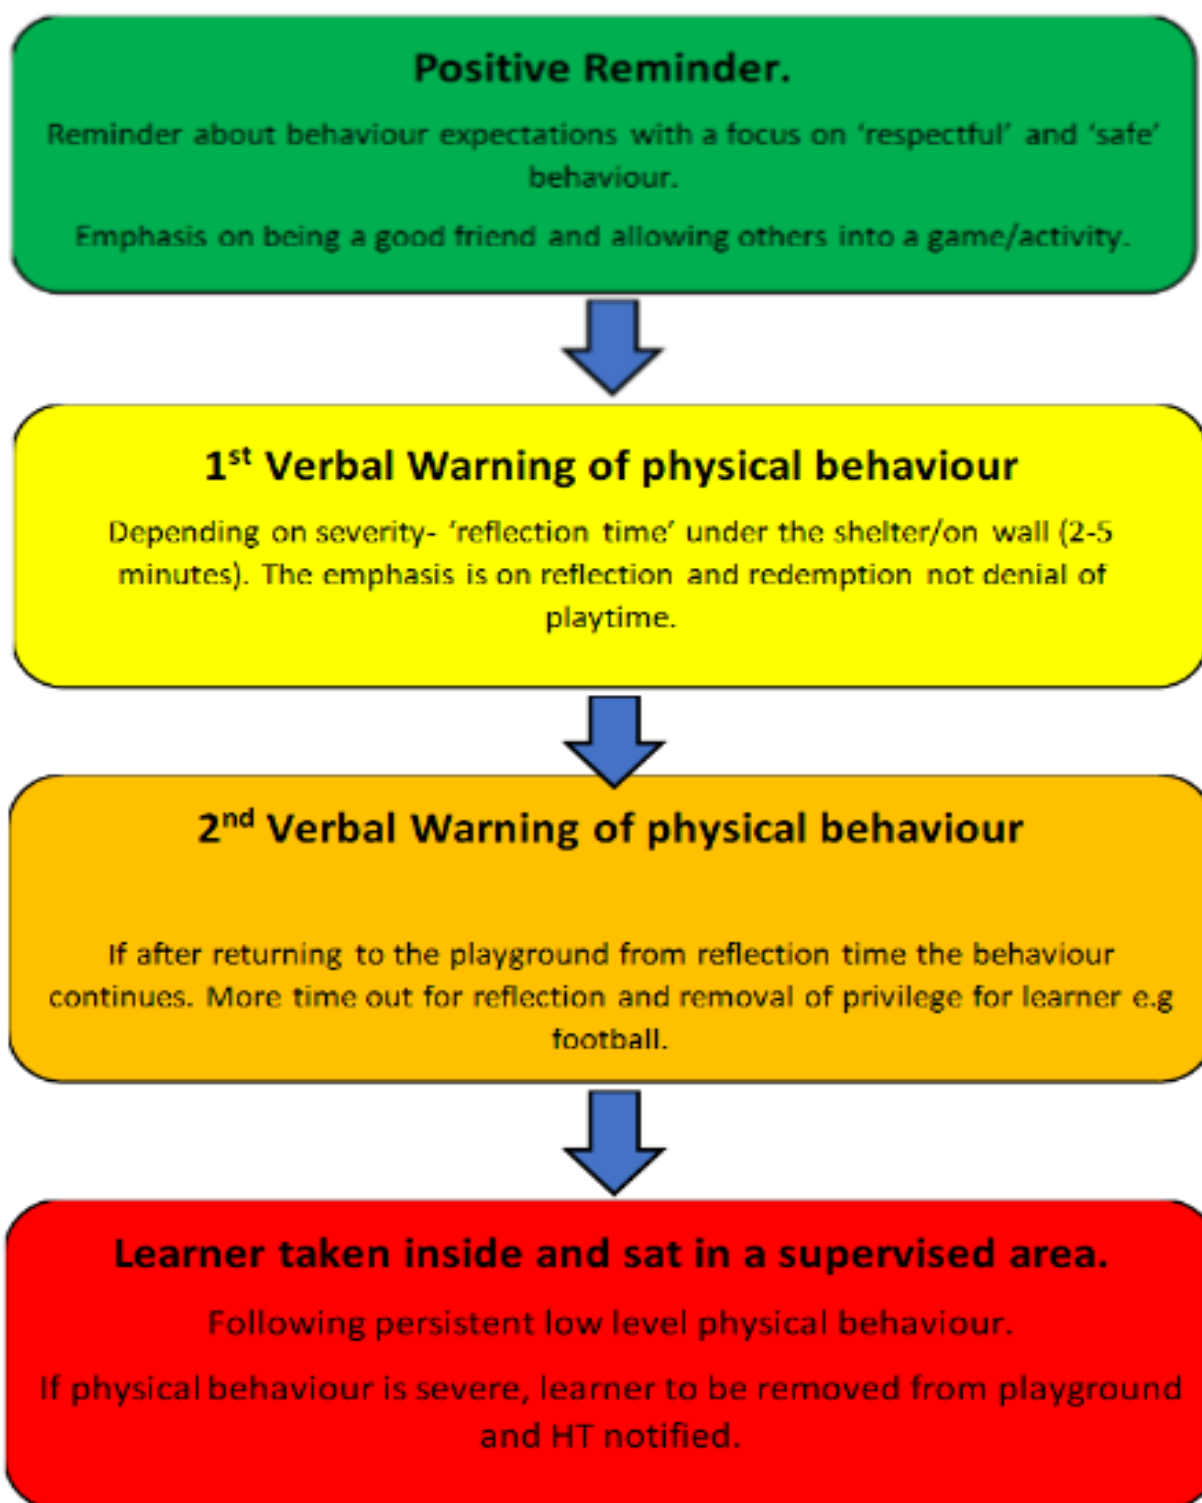

- Following repeated poor behaviour the learner is asked to sit next to an adult.

Asked to leave assembly hall and move to a supervised classroom.

- Following persistent poor behaviour learner is asked to leave assembly hall and move to a supervised classroom. Class Teacher to speak with parents if required/or privileges removed for that day.
